

Contents

CHAPTER 8	COMMERCE	page 89
	SHOPPING	89
	General pattern of shopping	89
	Analysis of existing shopping structure	93
	Land requirements for shopping	97
	Future shopping needs of Melbourne	100
	RETAIL MARKETS	102
	WHOLESALE MARKETS	104
	Livestock markets	104
	Wholesale fish market	110
	Wholesale fruit and vegetable market	110
	WAREHOUSING AND STORAGE	112
CHAPTER 9	PUBLIC UTILITIES	115
	Water supply	115
	Sewerage	116
	Storm-water drainage and streams	119
	Electricity	119
	Gas	121
	Post and telegraph	121
	Disposal of garbage	124
	Cost of services	125
CHAPTER 10	EDUCATION AND CULTURE.	127
	Analysis of education structure	127
	Analysis of school age structure	132
	Standards	135
	Future school requirements	136
	The University of Melbourne	137
	Cultural facilities	139
CHAPTER 11	HEALTH	141
	Hospitals	141
	Infant welfare centres	147
	Cemeteries and crematoria	148
CHAPTER 12	RECREATION	153
	Distribution and use of playing fields	153
	Summary of existing needs for field sports	159
	Parks and gardens and children's playgrounds	163
	Foreshores and beaches	165

Contents

CHAPTER 13	ROAD COMMUNICATIONS	page	167
	Existing traffic conditions		167
	Analysis of traffic generation		174
	Estimation of future traffic		175
	Economics of vehicle operation		177
	The existing road system		178
	Road engineering practice		179
CHAPTER 14	PUBLIC TRANSPORT		183
	Existing transport facilities		183
	Movement of workers		186
	Use of different forms of transport		189
	Future needs for public transport		192
CHAPTER 15	THE CENTRAL BUSINESS AREA		197
	Physical aspects		197
	The human element		201
	Central area road traffic		205
	Future central area needs		205
	APPENDICES
	I Density definitions		209
	II Questionnaire used in Metropolitan Sample Survey		210
	III Minimum size of allotments for dwellings permitted in municipalities, 1952		212

Maps and Diagrams

Chapter 2	GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT
	1 Annual population increment in Melbourne, 1840-1952	page 7
	2 Growth diagrams	11
	3 Melbourne in relation to Australia	12
Chapter 3	THE PLANNING AREA AND ITS ADMINISTRATION
	4 Municipal and statistical districts	16
	5 Topography	17
	6 Geology and climate	18
	7 Principal extractive industries	22
	8 Existing land use — 1951	25
Chapter 4	THE PEOPLE OF THE PLANNING AREA
	9 Population growth	31
	10 Distribution of Victoria's population by regions	33
	11 Trend of Victoria's population by regions	33
	12 Australia's changing age structure	35
	13 Age and sex structure, Melbourne, 1947	36
	14 Percentage of the population under 15 years in each municipality	37
	15 Distribution of work force by type of industry, 1947	39
	16 Distribution of work force by occupational status, 1947	39
Chapter 5	AGRICULTURE
	17 Distribution of livestock	45
	18 Distribution of fruit and vegetable growing areas	45
Chapter 6	RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT
	19 Distribution of population showing type of home occupancy	50
	20 Trend in residential location	51
	21 Where people wish to move from	53
	22 Where people wish to move to	53
	23 Residential density	56
	24 Age and condition of housing	57
	25 Rent	59
	26 Owner occupancy	59
	27 Relation of residence to work place	64
Chapter 7	INDUSTRY
	28 Growth of Victorian industry, 1903-48	70
	29 Factory employment in Melbourne, 1949	72

Maps and Diagrams

30	Distribution of industrial land, 1951	page 74
31	Distribution of industrial employment	77
32	Relation between factory employment and resident workers in each municipality	78
33	Trend in industrial location	79
34	Relation between density and site requirements of general manufacturing industries	87
Chapter 8	COMMERCE
35	Distribution of metropolitan shopping	91
36	Shopping centres showing broad catchment areas	94
37	Markets and abattoirs	103
Chapter 9	PUBLIC UTILITIES
38	Water	117
39	Sewerage	117
40	Electricity	120
41	Gas	120
42	Telephones	124
43	Garbage disposal	124
Chapter 10	EDUCATION AND CULTURE
44	Distribution of primary schools	130
45	Distribution of secondary schools	131
Chapter 11	HEALTH
46	Distribution of hospitals	142
47	Infant welfare centres	147
48	Cemeteries and crematoria	149
Chapter 12	RECREATION
49	Location and use of playing fields	156
50	Open space available for playing fields	161
51	Open space available for parks, gardens and children's playgrounds	163
Chapter 13	ROAD COMMUNICATIONS
52	Road transport and State income	168
53	Cost of metropolitan road transport	168
54	Weekly expenditure on transport	168
55	Types of traffic flow	168

Maps and Diagrams

56	Use of motor vehicles	page 169
57	Annual petrol consumption	170
58	Motor registrations and city traffic	171
59	Subdivisions used for Gallup Survey	172
60	Traffic distribution — Footscray	174
61	Actual traffic and calculated traffic	176
62	Principal traffic movements, 1951	177
63	Estimated future traffic movements	177
64	Existing main roads	179
Chapter 14	PUBLIC TRANSPORT
65	Walking times in central area	184
66	Tramway and bus system, 1951	185
67	Movement of workers	187
68a	Travel times from work	188
68b
69	Travel times to city, 1951	190
70	Future travel times to city	191
71	Present railway and tramway catchment areas	193
72	Future railway and tramway catchment areas	193
73	Trend in train and tram travel	193
Chapter 15	THE CENTRAL BUSINESS AREA
74	Distribution of floor space	199
75	Condition of buildings	199
76	Employment	201
77	Predominant existing use	201
78	Origin of central area workers	203
79	Statistical subdivision of central area	203
80	Origin of central area workers travelling to work by car	205
81	Rate at which workers leave city	205
82	Origin of central area shoppers (week days)	206
83	Approximate distribution of inward morning peak traffic	207