Comments: Humanity needs to get off fossil fuels for nature, including us, to survive. This means switching from private to public transport, and using modern technology to reduce the need for trucks, at least as an interim measure. We need to minimise vehicles on the road, not give them more roads to fill. Every since studies in Los Angeles in the 1960s, it's been an established fact that increasing roads increases traffic to the same level of congestion. The enormous amount of money to be invested in this tunnel would be better spent on every means of reducing traffic, not increasing it.
