

Addendum 1 – Planned community engagement schedule (August 2023 to January 2024)

Community engagement activities during the EES/EIS process are guided by the Stakeholder Management Plan, which can be found on both the Seadragon project website and the Planning section of the Department of Transport and Planning's website. Q3 and Q4 2023 community engagement will focus on building awareness and understanding of the project, obtaining feedback on community concerns and aspirations and informing the community of the opportunity for formal feedback on the EES/EIS assessment scopes.

*A Community Advisory Group (CAG) has been formed to provide a transparent, representative, and accessible forum for two-way information sharing between the Seadragon project and the local community in the project area. Meetings are anticipated to be held quarterly, with the first planned for 7 September 2023. The CAG includes representatives from across different sectors and Gippsland communities. Whilst representatives were sought through public advertisement, these meetings are not open to the general public on the day.

 Date is subject to Victorian Minister for Planning and Commonwealth Minister for Environment and Water delegate's approval of public exhibition of draft EES Scoping Requirements and draft EIS Guidelines. This session will be timed to correspond with that public notice period.

Please note the above represents the current summary (as of 4 September 2023) of planned community engagement opportunities. As more events are planned and become known, Seadragon will update this schedule, which will be available on our website <https://seadragonoffshorewind.com/>.
