

Diane Derby

The screenshot shows an IBM Notes application window titled "Tourist feed back - IBM Notes". The interface includes a menu bar (File, Edit, View, Create, Actions, Tools, Window, Help) and a toolbar with various email actions like New, Reply, Reply to All, Forward, Display, and More. The email header shows the subject "Tourist feed back" and the sender "Greateoceanroad.Actionplan". The email body contains the following text:

Hi there .

After visiting the 12 apostles I was more than disappointed there was a so called Cafe there that was a disgrace ,no tables or chairs ,no tourist gifts available and there was no varieties of foods to be had in fact I saw a few stale pies in the warmer and that was all. Considering the great ocean road is a huge tourist destination where as you get thousands each day also buses and cars all eager to see the sights ,spend there money ,have a cuppa ,they can certainly see the sights but besides that nothing . The revenue taken from a good cafe and great tourist gifts could all be ploughed back into preserving this amazing landscape . I would like to hear the concrete plans you have for this protect and not just visions.

I look forward to hearing from you

Sent from my iPad

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the search bar, taskbar icons, and system tray with the date and time 6:10 PM 11/06/2019.